HERE'S the POINT

By SPENCE HELD

As a fugitive from the downtown district, I'm happy to work in Ocean Beach and live on Point Loma. But I still consider San Diego a beautiful city—at a distance.

Yeah, I know. We're a part of it, politically if not geographically, and that brings up my annual trip to town the other day.

I attended a meeting called by the City Council for discussion of the City propositions on the June 5 election ballot, including "A" (Civic Auditorium), "B" (Mission Bay Park) and "C" (Revenue Bonds for Sewers).

After Mayor Charlie Dail spoke, I asked him the following question:

"Is Point Loma dead as the site for a sewage plant?"

"Yes," he replied. "It's definitely dead."

He emphasized that the Southbay area is the only site now considered for a sewage plant and ocean outfall.

After the meeting I took a ride in the new glass elevator up the face of El Cortez Hotel.

There was an Optimist convention at the hotel, and no Pessimists were present as our "helicopter" took off on its brief flight into the Wild Blue Yonder.

The view across the bay to Point Loma was stupendous—but I still prefer the reverse view from my window.

So I've been to town this year . . .

Well, yesterday was Memorial Day, and the Saturday Evening Post really caught the spirit of the holiday in its two-page color photo of a Kansas farmer and his wife at the grave of their son in Fort Scott National Cemetery.

"Jimmy Collins was a long way from home when a Japanese machine gun cut him down in 1944. He died in New Guinea at twenty-seven, then returned to lie forever in Kansas earth . . . With Jimmy's parents in this photograph are three little Collinses who also came to honor the uncle they never knew."

The current Coronet Magazine has a good article about Art Linkletter, the San Diego State College basketball star who parlayed a gift of gab into a million dollars, more or less. (Mostly more.)

Personally, I don't listen to Linkletter, but an estimated 11,000,000 people tune in on his TV program every week.

What I like about him is that he's been married to the same San Diego girl for 20 years—and that's probably a Hollywood record.

A fella named Remy De Gourmont once said: "Most men who run down women are running down one woman only."

Euripides put it this way: "There is no worse evil than a bad woman; and nothing has ever been produced better than a good one."

I'll go along with that.

PARADE OF BOATS TO START PROGRAM ON MISSION BAY

Final plans for the Mission Bay Day celebration on Sunday, June 3, were announced yesterday.

The thrill-packed program of aquatic sports, open to the public without charge, will open at 12 noon with a colorful boat parade around Mission Bay. In the leading boats will be Mayor Dail, other officials and Gay Cowie, Miss San Diego.

Water craft will be supplied by the Outboard Boating Club of San Diego. (This club will hold a racing meet from 1:30 to 2 p.m. off Gleason Point.)

A crack precision drill team of San Diego speedboats will stage an exhibition of difficult formation cruising as part of the festivities.

At least 10 of the 20 speedboats in Coast Guard Auxiliary Speedboat Flotilla 18, only one of its kind on the Pacific Coast, will participate in the special demonstration which wll be performed for the frst time on Mission Bay. John Cook, commander of the local Speedboat Group, has promised to put on a show which will outsmart even a TV spectacular.

In addition to the crack speedboat drill team display, Mission Bay Day will feature a free 17-act water ski circus, a Zlac demonstration of rowing 8-oar barges, trick archery shooting, swimming, racing, sailing, skin-diving, an air-sea rescue by helicopter and a hole-in-one golfing contest.

"Mission Bay Day has been established as a day of celebration for the entire city and county," Paul Hartley, chairman of Mission Bay Day festivities, said. "We would like to see everyone pack a picnic lunch on Sunday, June 3, and bring the entire family out to Mission Bay to enjoy the program of fun and sports in one of the country's finest potential playgrounds."

Gibson Gets O. K. On Re-Election Bid

Supervisor Frank A. Gibson, a candidate for re-election from the First District, has been endorsed by the San Diego Central Labor Council's Committee on Political Education, it was announced this week.

Meantime, Gibson reiterated his full support of the policy of "making sure the county gets a dollar's worth of value for every dollar spent."

He explained: "It was by following this policy that the board has been able to hold the line on taxes. Next year, for example, there will be no increase in the county tax rate, and there may be a cut."

Gibson repeated his pledge to be a full-time supervisor, pointing out that "the growth of the county has brought problems so complex they cannot be solved on a part-time basis."

COLLIER PARK PROPOSITION 'WOULD PROVIDE ADVANTAGES'

Passage of Proposition 'L' on Tuesday's primary ballot, which would authorize sale of 19.3 acres of city-owned Collier Park land to the San Diego Unified School District, would provide two distinct advantages to residents of the Ocean Beach-Point Loma area, city and school officials said this week.

First, favorable action by the voters will enable the school district to proceed with plans for an urgently-needed second junior high school for this area, Associate Superintendent George H. Geyer said. The school is needed, Geyer added, to relieve the pressure of growing enrollments at Dana Junior High.

Secondly, the $67,550 which the city would realize from the sale of Collier Park land would become available for immediate use in adding recreational facilities for Ocean Beach residents in the new park area under development south of the flood control channel, City Manager O. W. Campbell said. Funds would be earmarked for this purpose only, Campbell said.

Funds for the new junior high school already are available, having been authorized in the 1953 school bond issue.

Dana Junior High's permanent plant is designed to accommodate 1500 students, but with the aid of six portable classrooms nearly 1700 students already are being served. Five additional portable classrooms are being added for next year, when enrollments will reach an estimated 1830.

However, without a second junior high in the area, Dana would have to serve between 2600 and 2700 students by 1961-62, and a possible 3700 pupils within 10 years, Dr. William H. Stegeman, city school research director, said.

Site limitations at Dana would not allow for necessary expansion of facilities to handle such an enrollment, Geyer said.

The new junior high would draw more than half its students from Ocean Beach, according to school officials.

Although funds for a second junior high were approved in 1953, the Board of Education could not determine a site until the future of the Frontier area, formerly occupied by the Public Housing Administration, had been resolved and a pattern of land use developed.

It now appears certain, according to school officials, that there will be little residential development in the Frontier area. This led to selection of the Collier Park site—the only available undeveloped land of sufficient acreage.

With Mission Bay Park immediately to the north, city plans do not call for development of the Collier Park area as a park. A portion of the area was released for the Door of Hope in 1937, and other portions have been set aside for the proposed Wabaska freeway and street developments. Another portion has been leased on a long-term basis for the Soap Box Derby racing course.

12 Girl Scouts Will Receive High Award Fri.

Twelve Girl Scouts of eighth grade Troop 345 will receive the highest award in Intermediate Girl Scouting, the Curved Bar, at a Court of Awards to be held Friday, June 1, at 8 p.m. at Ocean Beach Baptist Church. The public is invited.

One of the largest groups in San Diego to receive this award, the girls are: Mary Beneventi, Carol Bishop, Terry Brumagim, Linda Connerley, Nita Cutchin, Fronsie Dunn, Gayle Hurst, Charlynn Malrot, Patricia Moore, Judy Nedrow, Janice Pruett and Joanne Walsh.

D. D. Williams, vice-mayor, will present the awards. Brenda Eggers, a new troop member, will receive her Second Class Badge. Girl Scouts of Troop 830 will present special music. The Rev. Allen Newman wil give the invocation.

Leaders of the troop are Mrs. R. D. Brumagim and Mrs. Charles Dunn.

Mission Bay 'Yes' Vote Urged by Citizens Group

"Who wouldn't spend a dollar to save three and earn more?" John D. Thompson Jr., savings and loan executive and finance chairman of the Citizens Committee for Mission Bay Development, said today.

"That's the position in which San Diego voters will find themselves when they go to the polls Tuesday, June 5, to approve or disapprove Proposition B—issuance of $5 million in bonds for continued development of Mission Bay Park."

Thompson explained: Three governments have already invested $15 million in the half-completed project, the federal $7 million, the state $3 million and the city $5 million. The Federal Government is committed to spend $3 million more if the city lives up to its obligations to finish the park. To assume its responsibilities the city needs the $5 million which the voters are asked to authorize."

"Voter approval of the bonds means Mission Bay Park can probably be completed in seven years, that by 1963 San Diego can have one of the world's greatest recreational areas not only for its own residents but for tens of thousands of tourists whose dollars will aid the local economy."

Burgener Promises 'Vigorous, Dynamic' Representation

Councilman Clair W. Burgener, winding up his election campaign for Assemblyman in the 78th district, promised voters "vigorous and dynamic representation for San Diego in the State legislature."

'San Diego and the 78th Assembly district has not received the proper representation in the past. This is proved by the absence of committee chairmanships in this area in the state legislature," said Burgener.

Burgener also promised to keep government as "local as possible," and said he would work for a balanced state budget.

"The water problem is serious and needs vigorous and aggressive action if it is to be solved," Burgener said. He added that San Diego's growth will be hampered and even stopped in the near future if additional water is not secured. "This can be done best with the cooperation of the entire state," he declared.

Burgener seeks the Democratic and Republican nominations at the June 5 primary election.

Bettencourt is a co-chairman of Luckel campaign committee.

"Frank Luckel's re-election is important not only to his district but to the entire county," he said.

S. D. TAXPAYERS' ASSOCIATION ENDORSES SEWER PROPOSITION

Endorsement has been given by the San Diego Taxpayers' Association to Proposition "C" which will be on the ballot in next Tuesday's election.

"Voters can set the stage to meet the city's growing sewerage needs by approving Proposition 'C'," the association stated in a report to its members.

"This proposal is a City Charter amendment, not a bond issue. Its purpose is to permit the City Council to propose at a future election that sewerage improvements be financed by the issuance of sewer revenue bonds.

"These bonds would be retired with revenues derived from sewer service charges, which would be set up in a special fund and used solely for City sewerage purposes.

"The San Diego Taxpayers' Association believes that Proposition 'C' offers the most equitable method of financing the City's sewerage needs and urges a 'Yes' vote. Sewer service charges imposed to pay for revenue bonds can be applied against all the users of the City's sewerage system, including those governmental agencies and tax-exempt institutions which do not pay property taxes.

"If sewerage improvements were financed with general obligation bonds, property taxpayers would carry the full cost. Revenue bond financing is clearly a proper and just way to meet the City's sewerage deficiencies."

Newcomers from Portland, Oregon, are Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Parker, who have taken an apartment in the 1400 block of Rosecrans St. Mr. Parker is newly drafted into the Navy.

Peninsula Women Report On Voters

Two Peninsula residents have returned from the 35th annual convention of the League of Women Voters of California. They are Mrs. Gilbert Curl, president of the League's San Diego branch, and Mrs. Paul Farrar.

They report that the California League of Women Voters went on record as supporting the school construction bond issue slated for the general election in November. Delegates to the convention, held in Long Beach, voiced support after an intensive year's study of the financial and administrative structure of public education in California.

In addition, delegates designated as a guide to action under its current education study support of "measures to provide sufficient funds, raised and apportioned on an equitable basis, for both the instructional and building needs of public education in California, with emphasis on long-range planning."

O. B. Woman's Club Garden Tour Provides Enjoyable Afternoon

By MARIAN KRETTLER

Under the guidance of Mrs. Martin Hunting and her very able committee, and for the benefit of the Ocean Beach Woman's Club and its many civic enterprises, several gorgeous gardens in this vicinity were visited on May 15.

Mrs. Joseph Kenneally, our famous rose lady, conducted the visitors through her many plantings. At Mrs. Clark Woodland's home in Savoy Circle, in addition to the magnificent flowers, the guests were conducted through the now burgeoning avocado grove. Avocados are temperamental trees, we know them best in La Mesa and other protested areas, but the Woodlands have fences against the ocean winds, so what can any other area in San Diego County do that we cannot improve on in Ocean Beach?

Especially enviable was the estate fronting the bay on Nichols St. where Mr. Grant and his friend, Mr. Munga have a wonderful enterprise Everything, from camellias to the hard to grow rhododendrons and cacti of many varieties, flourish under the devoted care of the owners. Furthermore, the huge house was most attractive done in the contrasting white, with black trim.

At 4483 Saratoga, we met the Bishops. That couple is engaged in raising orchids of many varieties and the initial cost is great, but several specimens were blossoming. They apologized for the lack of flowers.

No wonder. On Mother's Day, local florists came out and denuded them of the exotic beauties.

The Carl Oberg residence is always lovely to see. So many lovelies of this, our Springtime, were busy producing their return for care and devotion.

The tour ended with a visit to the Charles Kassler property on Del Mar. While, for this writer, I did not see the product of that couple's ingenuity, my friends called it a most fitting climax.

Tea was served at the clubhouse, marking the ending of a perfect afternoon, which indicated that with care and devotion, anything can flourish in this blessed area.

Cub Pack 28

The boys and parents of Cub Pack 28 enjoyed a "Hobo Outing" Sunday, May 26, at Palm Canyon. All were dressed as Hobos and the food was Hobo style, tin cans, plates and even a large pot of "Mulligan Stew".

"Hallelujah I'm a Bum" was sung by all. Awards were presented by Cubmaster Jim Thrailkill. Gold Arrows — Charles Hockman, Richard Lewis, and Chris Fischer; Silver Arrows—Eddie Biggs, Charles Hockman; Denner Stripes—Charles McCall, Ralph Smiley, Victor Lockman; Asst. Denner Stripes, Richard Backman.

The boys made a good showing in selling tickets for the Scout Fair, June 1 and 2, the amount totaling $158. David Richardson, Lawrence Callegeria, Victor Lockman and Gary Moore were presented "Super Salesman Hats." Nineteen other cubs received "Steer Tie Slides" for selling, also.

'Evening At Theatre' To Be Presented

"An Evening at the Theatre" will be presented by the Point Loma Extension of the Jewish Community Center, Saturday, June 2, at 8:30 p.m., at the Point Loma Assembly clubhouse, 3035 Talbot St.

The program will include folk songs by Bob Natwick, an interpretive dance by Lelo Berger, and the prize-winning play, "Hang Over Thy Head." Members of the cast are: Bill Browning, Ann Morgan, Bert Miller, Jack Aronsen, Edith and Murray Schwartz, and Eugene Smith.

Choreography and production have been handled by Mrs. Catherine Adams, Mrs. Dorothy Halsted and Miss Helen Wilson.

The program also will niclude vocal numbers by students of Mrs. Vera Melhorne and Walter Haswell ,and accordian solos by students of Miss Bettina Mango.

City Junior Golf Championship Set

Every boy and girl golfer in the San Diego area will have the opportunity to compete in the first annual City Junior Golf Championships June 21 and 22 at Balboa Park Municipal Golf Course, tournament officials announced.

Approximately half the 120 starting positions for the 36-hole tournament will be filled through qualifying rounds to be played at five courses on Monday, June 18. The remainder of the field will be junior tournament "veterans" exempted from qualifying because of their performance records.

Entry forms may be obtained at golf courses and country clubs, sporting goods establishments, and the San Diego Junior Chamber of Commerce office, 947 Columbia St. Entries must be filed before June 11. The Junior Championships are sponsored by the Junior Chamber and the Park and Recreation Department of the City of San Diego.

CIVIC AUDITORIUM
Combining Public Assembly Facilities
★ . . . because a multi-purpose center accommodating conventions, sports events, Broadway theatrical productions, concerts, operas and trade shows, will put several million dollars of new money into local circulation every year;
★ . . . because this is 100% profit money earned elsewhere and spent here;
★ . . . because construction of a Civic Auditorium will create hundreds of jobs, and assure continuing jobs thereafter;
★ . . . because public assembly facilities grouped in an Auditorium mean lower operation and maintenance costs, hence mean more money for the City Treasury;
★ . . . because an Auditorium brings in thousands of visitors who pay sales taxes—to our benefit;
★ . . . because with an Auditorium, San Diego will be able to entertain the large state and national conventions, and accompanying trade shows.
Vote YES on Proposition "A"
The need for an Auditorium has been recognized during the years, but there were divergent views on location, type of structure, and cost. These points have now been eliminated . . . ahead of us is the opportunity for a united community to transform a dream into a reality.
Other cities, many smaller than San Diego, operate Auditoriums profitably. We can, too, by voting YES on Proposition "A" in the election June 5.

PROPOSITION W FOR WATER!

THE 3 BIG REASONS WE NEED PROPOSITION "W"

POPULATION

Our population is growing at an amazing rate. More people need more water. Our present supply is used up to the limit. We must have more water, or face restricted use and threatened water rationing.

JOBS

Industry uses ever increasing amounts of water. Industry brings livelihood to our increasing population. To keep our jobs, and create more jobs for more people, we must have more water without delay.

SECURITY

Heavy population growth has severely depleted underground storage basins throughout Southern California. We must build them up with more water as protection against war, earthquake, aqueduct breakdown, protracted severe drought, or other unexpected disaster.

HOW WE CAN GET MORE WATER WITH "W"

The Metropolitan Water District of Southern California, of which the San Diego County Water Authority is the third largest member agency, is pushing forward a giant Colorado River Aqueduct construction program. The District needs $50 million to help bring the aqueduct up to its full planned delivery capacity. By approving Proposition "W" we will enable the District to get the job done rapidly so that we can get the vitally needed water without delay.

NO TAX INCREASE
There Will Be No New Taxes

Proposition "W" will enable the District to speed up our water delivery by issuing short-term notes for the needed $50 million. The notes will be retired, with interest, from annexation fees already pledged and being paid each year by areas annexed to the District during recent years. Thus we get the water we need — WITH NO TAX INCREASE.

LET'S TAKE THE
for our urgently needed
SANITATION SYSTEM!
Vote YES Proposition 'C'

Proposition "C," on the ballot in the election Tuesday, June 5, calls for a Charter amendment permitting issuance of revenue bonds, with voter approval at a subsequent election, for financing the construction of a modern sewer system to eliminate the pollution of San Diego Bay.

That, in a nutshell, is Proposition "C."

It is estimated that at least a year would elapse before engineering and plans can be completed, and a revenue bond issue submitted to voters.

Proposition "C" in itself has nothing whatever to do with reclamation of water from sewage, processing of sludge into fertilizer, site of the proposed treatment plant, or cost of the system.

It merely authorizes a means for financing appropriate works to provide the up-to-date sewer system that San Diego so urgently needs, and to eliminate bay pollution.
